

International Spring School for Early Career Researchers in Life Sciences

Socially Engaged Research
9th of April to 10th of April 2024
in Life Sciences 9-12 a.m. each day

Funded by the European Union

Discover the potential of socially engaged research!

There is a growing interest in collaborative and interdisciplinary research for addressing many global challenges that societies all across the globe are facing. Early Career Researchers can and should play a key role in addressing these challenges and breaking the traditional barriers of academic research by aligning their research more with societal needs and wants.

What do I need to know and consider if I want to do socially engaged research? We want to give you answers to these questions as part of our International Spring School. Over two mornings, you will be given an overview of the potential and challenges of socially engaged research and you can explore individual approaches in greater depth in various workshops and sessions.

We look forward to welcoming Master's students, PhD students and post-docs who want to expand their knowledge of socially engaged research.

9th of April to 10th of April 2024

9-12 a.m. each day

Our International Spring School takes place online via Zoom in English and is free of charge.

If you are interested, please register on the following portal by 25 March 2024:

Qr-Code?

After registration you will receive further information and access. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact us:
susanne.winge@geo.uni-halle.de